

Morgan Sindall

SER base

July 2018

20 weeks

Universal Piling were contracted by Morgan Sindall to complete the piled foundations for a new SER (Signal Equipment Room) base.

Our contract was to install 40nr case and augered piles to a depth of 18m with a diameter of 450mm, we installed all of the piles using our own Hutte 203 piling rig.

The piles we installed were to support the base for a new LUL (London Underground) signalling switch room, all of our piling works were completed adjacent to the LUL railway line at East Putney Railway Station.

Due to the location of the site, our Hutte 203 piling rig had to be mobilised in using a 120 tonne mobile crane.
